A Horse With an Artificial Eye.

A fine looking brown gelding owned by Dr. Walter W. White had one of his eyes injured about two years ago and gradually lost the sight in that optic. The case was brought to the attention of Dr. Ward, the state veterinarian, some weeks ago. It is a difficult matter to secure artificial eyes for horses that will not warp, break or fall out. Dr. Ward knew that the proper article could be procured in England, and in reply to a letter the delicate piece of compound was received a few days ago. It is made of a composition of vulcanite and will not change color or become easily injured. Several days ago Dr. Ward dried up the injured eye and placed a small circular piece of vulcanite in the socket, so as to accustom the horse to the new sensation. The imported eye was put in at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Dr. Ward put a few drops of oil on the disk-like arrangement, and with the aid of a lancet raised the eyelids and placed the eye in position. The artificial eye looks exceedingly natural.—Baltimore American.

SUNDAY, JULY 2, 1893.

GENERAL WARNER'S VIEW.

General A. J. Warner of Ohio is president of the American bimetallic league. As congressman from Ohio he advocated the free coinage of silver and it was to him that President-elect Cleveland addressed his notorious anti-silver letter before his inauguration in 1885. In an interview in Washington a day or two ago he said:

"This is not only the life and death struggle of bimetallism, but of metallic money. If the Sherman silver purchase law is repealed unconditionally, as supplementary to the action of the British government in closing the mints of India, it will put an end to the automatic regulation of money for the world. That is it will result in the abandonment of the automatic regulation of money all over the world that has existed ever since the commencement of the era of civilization. It means such an economic revolution as was never known before."

"The advocates of monometallism stand on the very brink of a precipice and are in imminent danger of being toppled over into a bottomless abyss. The administration is now pressing for the unconditional repeal of the silver purchase law, and in making that consummation its first and most prominent issue does not realize that it is sowing the wind and must reap the whirlwind. The distribution of federal patronage as a means toward thus end, rewarding, or promising to reward senators and members of the house for the abandonment of their views which hitherto were favorable to bimetallism, and punishing or ignoring those who refuse to be either cajoled or driven into subservience to the gold standard must of necessity produce a resentful far-reaching in its effect."

"That resentment will find abundant voice and pronouncement at the ensuing bimetallic convention and will be echoed and re-echoed in thunder tones at the hustings in every section. Politics and political patronage cannot be made to mix with business affairs and control our commerce, industrial pursuits are not to be regulated by the mere upgradement and ambition of political power."

A bimetallic convention will be called at the earliest practical moment, probably when congress meets, to discuss the situation. General Warner is hourly in receipt of telegrams from all parts of the country requesting him to call such a convention, and as several senators and representatives are members of the league the convention will be held at Washington.

THE D. S. L. & S. F. R. R.

It is probable that within a few years locomotives and cars bearing the above initials will be seen daily at a new depot in Reno. An Associated Press dispatch says the Denver, Salt Lake and San Francisco Railroad Company was incorporated yesterday under the laws of Colorado with a capital stock of $10,000,000.

The chief promoter of the enterprise is ex-Governor John Evans the wealthiest man in Colorado. His associates are also prominent and wealthy men representing altogether about $50,000,000.

It is the intention of the company to put a corps of engineers in the field at once and when the most feasible route is determined, commence grading.

As heretofore stated in the JOURNAL Governor Evans has had considerable experience in railroad building. He is one of the most conservative and at the same time most energetic men in the enterprising city of Denver. What he undertakes he does and any railroad or other project approved by him commands the attention and receives the support of capitalists in the great money centers of the country. Salt Lake city will, of course, materially assist the new road, and when it reaches the Nevada line it will doubtless consolidate with the Utah & Nevada Air Line and receive the bonus of $3,000 a mile to which that company is entitled by its charter for every mile of main track it builds through White Pine, Eureka, Lander, Churchill and Washoe counties.

COLORADO EXCITED.

The people of Colorado are very much excited over the decline in silver. Nearly all the silver mines and smelting furnaces have suspended operations and thousands are thrown out of employment. Governor White announced that he is ready to convene the legislature in extra session. If the people demand it, he will recommend the passage of a stay law, suspending the collection of debts and the prohibition of gold clauses in all contracts.

The real estate exchange and perhaps the chamber of commerce will take action upon resolutions calling for a special session of the legislature and if they favor it the governor will issue a proclamation calling it together.

Colorado has been the greatest silver producing state in the union for several years. There are extensive reduction works in various parts of the state which gave employment to many persons. The mines and smelters are now closed and thousands are out of work with no probability of being able to get employment while the price of silver is as low as it is now.

Was there ever a nation, except the United States, that conspired with its enemies to depreciate the value of an article of which it is the greatest producer in the world?

SEN. ALLISON ON SILVER.

Surmising as to What Congress Will Do.

By Associated Press

WHAT WILL IT DO?
Gives an Evening Paper on the Extra Session.

Special to the JOURNAL.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—An evening paper has the following special from Washington:

"Now that the president has called congress together, the all-important question is 'What will it do?' As a matter of fact nobody can tell. The house, which is always more amicable to the executive than the Senate, will probably repeal the Sherman law, but not without a fight."

"Blind and other free silver men will exhaust every privilege allowed them under the rules to delay action and will filibuster just as long as they are permitted, but it is virtually settled by the democrat that the rules of the next house will partake somewhat of the nature of the Reed rules. Filibustering will be reduced to a minimum. Indeed it is no secret that the Democrats of the house intend to follow very closely upon the Reed rules in some respects."

"The house will be organized in a hurry under pressure from the president. Crisp will be reelected speaker without opposition. He will arrange the committees expeditiously and in the meantime the committee on rules which will be appointed first will proceed to prepare a code of rules. There will be certain provisions deliberately designed to prevent the friends of silver from delaying the vote on the repeal of the Sherman act, and at the south end of the capitol at least the president's program will be carried out."

"The opposition in the senate will be more effective. Senators Stewart and Jones of Nevada, together with other silver advocates will make a determined fight. They will oppose the repeal of the Sherman law unless legislation more favorable to silver be offered as a substitute that will not be conceded."

"Republicans and Democrats who demand the repeal of the Sherman act will insist upon its unconditional repeal. There will be no previous question in the senate; no way whatever of curtailing debate except by fixing the hour for the final vote and then making it a question of physical endurance. Senator Stewart is a long and enduring talker himself and he could consume a week at least. There is no way of changing the senate rules so as to cut off debate. That would not be tolerated. It would be contrary to established usages. The president himself has entertained doubts as to whether a majority of the senate would vote to repeal the Sherman act. He is not yet entirely convinced that a majority will promptly show up on that side."

Reorganizing the Military Department of Arizona.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The president before leaving Washington yesterday signed an order reorganizing the military department of Arizona under the name of the department of Colorado, with headquarters at Denver.

The department of Arizona consists of the territory of New Mexico and that portion of California south of the 38th parallel. The new order abolishes the department of Arizona and places Arizona, New Mexico, Utah and Colorado in the new department. Southern California is restored to the department of California with headquarters at San Francisco.

This change had been urged by the military authorities for a year past.

The headquarters of the department of Arizona were at Los Angeles, placing General McCook, commanding the department, at the extreme western part of his department. This has caused great delay in communicating with the army headquarters at Washington, as all matters in his section were sent to him and by him to Washington. With headquarters at Denver he will be at the extreme east of the department and in closest communication with Washington. This, it is believed, will effect an economy in time and money and greatly facilitate the disbursement of supplies and ammunition. General McCook will command the new department.

BOUNDLESS IN THE REAR.

An Unknown Colt Wins at Sheepshead Bay.

NEW YORK, July 1.—The rich Realization stakes contested for at Sheepshead to-day was won by Brown & Rogers' unnamed colt by Troubadour, out of Sunbeam, after a most exciting finish with St. Leonards second and Sir Walter third, while Boundless, the winner of the American Derby at Chicago last Saturday, was badly beaten and finished next to last. It was a beautiful day and a very large crowd was present. St. Leonards was favorite in the books at even money, Boundless being second choice at 8 to 5, Sir Walter third choice and the Sunbeam colt next. In the start Sir Walter and Remapo had a slight advantage, but Accident set out to make a turning and kept the front until nearing the far turn on the back stretch. Then Sir Walter and St. Leonards moved up. Their pace quickened and Accident dropped to the rear where he eventually finished. Boundless also had enough just before the turn for home and a groan went up from his thousands of backers as he dropped toward the rear. Sir Walter was the first in the stretch, St. Leonards catching him rapidly. Suddenly the Sunbeam colt poked his muzzle in front and a furious finish followed during which he held his place despite all efforts of St. Leonards' and Sir Walter's jockeys to get to the front.

Bimetallic League to Meet.

Special to the JOURNAL.]

WASHINGTON, July 1.—General A. J. Warner, president of the bimetallic league, to-day sent to the members of the executive committee a telegraphic inquiry as to what date would best suit them for a convention and suggesting July 25th, and the place as Chicago. All replied were favorable and the matter was left in General Warner's hands.

Although he has not finally decided he is of the opinion the convention will be held at the time and place named.

The object of the gathering is to organize so as to influence congress favorably in the direction of silver and fight the repeal of the Sherman law if such repeal is to be made without offering some kind of a substitute.

Senator Allison on Silver.

Special to the JOURNAL.]

DUBUQUE, Iowa, July 1.—Senator Allison, in an interview to-night on the silver situation, expressed the opinion that the action of India emphasizes the necessity for an international agreement, and the United States alone cannot maintain free coinage. He thinks it clear in view of this new phase that this government should cease purchasing silver. That the Brussels conference should be reconvened and should have a comprehensive policy of our own case it shall appear impossible for the leading nations to reach a common agreement on the subject.

It is probable that within a few years locomotives and cars bearing the above initials will be seen daily at a new depot in Reno. ELECTRICITY AND CHOLERA.

A Simple Method for Preparing an Efficient Remedy.

In view of the danger of a fresh outbreak of the fatal epidemic during the year, it is to be expected, says Electricity, that disinfectants not only will rise enormously in price, but that the demand will exceed the production, and it will be of interest to point out a simple method for the preparation of liquids containing chlorine, the active agent of the most efficient of disinfectants, chloride of lime. By passing an electric current through an aqueous solution of soluble chloride, both the chloride and water are decomposed. At the positive pole a very unstable chloride is formed, which has very powerful oxidizing properties, while at the negative pole another oxide is formed, capable of precipitating most organic substances.

We thus obtain by electrolysis a liquid which has the following properties: (1) It completely destroys the organic substances formed by putrefaction, as well as the noxious gases generated, such as sulphuretted hydrogen, ammonium sulphate, marsh gas, etc., and it also destroys all bacilli and other living ferment; (2) it precipitates albuminous substances of all kinds, and other suspicious ingredients contained in water; in other words it clarifies the water. This method has already been used for technical purposes, such as bleaching paper-pulp and starch, and might be used with advantage for the bleaching of our linen, which receives such barbarous treatment on the part of the laundress. Why should this method not also be used for the disinfection of refuse, water-closets and contaminated water? It would certainly be of the greatest value in case of another outbreak of cholera, and especially in seaports, provided it were properly developed and rendered applicable on a large scale. The source of chlorine in a seaport is inexhaustible; it is simply seawater. It does not signify in the least from whence the chlorine, the most powerful of all disinfecting agents, is derived; we have in sea-water an inexhaustible supply of the raw material, and in electrolysis an excellent method for the production of the active agent.

The Wadsworth Dispatch has the following relative to the White Horse mines:

Ed. Gregory has bonded the Jim Blaine mine.

R. H. Cowles has stopped work in his tunnel for a short time.

The Sunset shaft is down thirty-five feet and prospects improving with depth.

Dr. Jackman and Jas. Poole have an eighteen-inch ledge at a depth of fifteen feet and they will continue to sink. The quartz bears free gold.

The Hays-Johnson-Taylor shaft is down 30 feet and still in a conglomeration of clay, gravel and quartz, all bearing coarse gold.

The Great Contest.

Next Monday night the public will have an opportunity of seeing the great battle between McKenzie of Australia and Sam Barber of San Francisco. Both men have undergone one month's strict training, and the event promises to be the most bitter and evenly contested battle that has ever taken place in Nevada. McKenzie received a telegram from Chicago last night stating that should he win his fight here he will be matched with George Lavine for $2,000. Sam Barber in his fight with Spider Kelly of 38 rounds proved himself to be a hard and game man and the Australian will have to be at his best to win. Both of the men are feeling fine and the contest promises to be one that will long be remembered in Nevada. One hundred dollars was bet on Barber last night by a well known Carson sport. May the best man win.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

BREVITIES.

The town is already filling up with strangers.

M. T. Coats is home on a visit to his family from Bishop Creek, Inyo county, Cal., where he has been engaged in milling at the Kilpatrick flour mills. He says there is much fine land and abundance of water at Bishop Creek. It will eventually be a great country.

The Genes Courier learns that the Buckeye troupe has been amicably settled. All hands have gone to work, and peace and harmony prevails at the new diggings. Everybody is glad to hear of this state of affairs as it will enable those interested in the claims to push work along before the water gives out.

The firm of Riley & Hardin whose principal place of business was at Santa Rosa, California, has been dissolved. Colonel J. A. Hardin, well known in Nevada and Eastern Oregon, was a member of the firm, which has been in existence since 1862. Riley & Hardin owned extensive ranges and large flocks of sheep in California, and large cattle ranches in Humboldt county in this State and in Grant county, Oregon.

First Assistant Postmaster-General Jones has completed the annual adjustment of salaries of presidential postmasters, that is those whose salary is $1,000 or over per annum. The total number of such offices in the United States is 8,337, the aggregate salaries of which amount to $6,965,700 a year. The total gross receipts for the postoffice department for the year ending March 31, 1893, were $59,162,801, an increase as compared with last year of $5,003,828.

W. H. Mills, land agent of the Southern Pacific Company, is being pressed for United States Senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Governor Stanford. Mr. Mills is a brainy man, in fact the railroad company seldom has any other kind at the head of any of its departments, and while he would make as able a senator as California has had in Washington for years, the fact that he is advocated for the position by every railroad news-paper in California and Nevada tends to prejudice the people against him.

A large number of visitors from the adjacent counties are expected and arrangements have been made to provide for them in private houses if hotel accommodations are not ample.

Senator Jones on the Situation.

Senator Jones of Nevada who is now in New York says.

"I doubt very much if the Sherman act can be repealed at the extra session. It certainly cannot be wiped out unless a substitute satisfactory to the advocates of free coinage is provided. Should Congress succeed in affecting the repeal without granting such a substitute there would surely be a breaking away from the old parties of men who believe that the free coinage of silver is the best method of solving the financial problem. A silver party will be formed and it will prove so powerful and wield such an influence that to ignore it will be fatal to any man who desires political preferment."

School Teachers Elected.

The School Trustees met last night and proceeded to elect teachers for the ensuing term. Miss Bertha Wagner was elected to the position of assistant to Prof. H. H. Howe, the principal, who it will be remembered was elected for the entire year last January. Miss Annie Olcovich was given the grade formerly presided over by Miss Wagner, and Miss Swift took the school occupied by Miss Morton. Miss Mattie Friedrich takes the South Ward school. The other teachers, Mrs. Brunseay, Misses Gillooly, Wasson, Roberts, French, Mills and Poloy were all re-elected.—Tribune.

The Fourth at the World's Fair.

Arrangements are being made for celebrating the Fourth of July on a grand scale at the World's Fair. Four troops of trained singers, 500 each, will be stationed at suitable points of the grand court, and will lead in patriotic songs in which it is expected 250,000 voices of those on the grounds will join. The great volume of sound will be punctuated by cannon salutes. First the ringing of the new liberty bell and the ringing of every bell in the city. Every person on the grounds will carry an American flag.

J. F. Aitken.

It is absolutely impossible to get a valet. No man with any respectability would regard for his personal comfort, can afford to do so.

The young man who uses his patient trousers another or the more economical mattress and who confides his boots to be cleaned by street boys at the corners of public thoroughfares does not enter into consideration. He should know better.

There are certain necessary adjuncts to living which are vulgar in themselves, but which, with a proper amount of tact, can be so transformed as to render them acceptable to the aesthetic sense.

My idea is one of these. We do not - I am sure - know what is the cost of articles or how they are made. We do not know whether we have purchased any such thing as a hat or a coat at the preparation of it, or the slaughter of cattle, etc., etc., to provide us with sustenance. And yet even these rude functions may be so directed and accomplished as not to be offensive to our sense of delicacy.

The special brand of idiot who can publish utterances like the above has Life's deepest pity. For months this brainless barge has been pouring out similar drivels in the columns of a weekly journal whose name we considerately refrain from giving. The paper is young, very young, but anything over two weeks old should know better than to print such loathsome twaddle. From his brilliant pen came the statement some time ago that "one should dress quietly at a funeral." It is many a long day since the reading public has been brought face to face with anything so fatuous and so sickening as this complacent "gentle" life.

Excitements That Kill.

Now that the season of outdoor athletic games has opened, the usual list of injuries from professional games of baseball, cricket, football and similar rough games may be expected to appear. But though a number do get injured in this way every season a far more common danger is from the excitement which accompanies these games. In the excitement of highly contested games the players run the risk of enlargement of the heart, which may prove fatal at the time or drag along for years. While a few of the players can endure almost anything in the way of excessive muscular exertion others of an ambitious and excitable nature run great risks.

Many of the games demand a continued exertion of a dangerous and reckless kind, and nothing short of a permanent injury to the player must follow where injury to the heart must follow where the excitable temperament engrosses long in the games. Often one suffers from a slight heart derangement which would never trouble him if he did not strain himself in excitable games. The true way is to demand a rigid examination of all those who would enter into games for a long continued struggle. Exercise of a proper sort is beneficial, but many cannot stand more than the gentlest sort - Yankee Blad.

"German Syrup"

I have been a great sufferer from Asthma and severe Colds every Winter, and last Fall my friends as well as myself thought because of my feeble condition, and greatest distress from constant coughing, and inability to raise any of the accumulated matter from my lungs, that my time was close at hand. When nearly worn out for want of sleep and rest, a friend recommended me to try your valuable medicine, Boschee's German Syrup. I am confident it saved my life. Almost the first dose gave me great relief and a gentle refreshing sleep, such as I had not had for weeks. My cough began immediately to loosen and pass away, and I found myself rapidly gaining in health and weight. I am pleased to inform thee - unsolicited - that I am in excellent health and do certainly attribute it to your Boschee's German Syrup. C. B. STICKNEY, Picton, Ontario.
